Internship Program Admissions: Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on intern selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements: The population served by Hutchings (and other agencies affiliated with the Internship Program) is diverse along many dimensions including the types and severity of psychopathology represented. However, the population, as a whole, skews toward the more severe end of the spectrum and interns who do well here often convey a passion for working with persons with severe mental illness/emotional disturbance. Minimally, they are comfortable (or rapidly become comfortable) working with such individuals and witnessing the behavioral manifestations of SMI/SED. Related to this, Interns (and other clinicians) who value collaboration with patients (as opposed to more clinician-directed care) and embrace the concept of recovery fit well here. The Internship does not require applicants to have had coursework and/or clinical experience with projective assessment techniques and many previous interns arrived here with none and did very well here. However, projective assessment (particularly the Rorschach) is covered in our assessment seminar and used here clinically. Prior experience with the instrument is helpful.
